1.1 Fionn Behrens

Name : Fionn Behrens
E-Mail : fionn@informatik.uni-siegen.de
Directory : mods
Amiga : A3000

I am counting 26 years, being a 1.87m, blue eyed, short haired student of technical computer science in the 7th semester at the Uni-GH Siegen. If you wonder about my strange first name: It's an irish name, and that's also where my father lives.

I have been having an Amiga since 1988, the first one was an A500 with Kick1.2, followed later by an A500+ w/ harddisk, and since 1993 it's an A3000 which has become quite usable - or, in fact essential - with 18 MB FastRam and 2 GB harddisk by now.

I am on IRC quite often and there as well as in real life people who know me can easily be divided into two groups: those who like me and the rest who hate me :-)
My way is sometimes not easy to handle and surely not everyones taste, but I like it and sometimes it is just big fun being callen an As***** :->>

In every situation of life I feel best if I have some good music to listen to. I play some instruments a bit myself, but none of them really good. My definition of 'good music' ranges from classic to house/funk/hiphop and can not easily be classified.

My most important tool is my pocket computer, which reminds me of everything all the time and counteracts my extreme aimlessness and absent-mindetness with moderate success.

Other things that I'm interested in / like:

Reading, dancing, going to the movies, Badminton, Volleyball (at the moment not actively, unfortunately), mock-ups, electronics, nice women (seems to be a unidirectional interest, I suppose), pet animals.

Things I'm not interested in / dislike:

German politicians, football, braggarts (especially when discussing about CDs), hatred, indifference, lies, doing the dishes, people who do not say what they think, Microsoft, mathematics, smoking and cigarettes (yes, I do have prejudice against smokers :-), chauvinists (the competitors =:-> )

A (bad) picture of me: Portrait
