

Apple Video

Best for movies recorded from a video source, rather than produced by animation. Not as well suited for still images as the Apple Photo compressor.

This compressor is designed for fast decompression, so that movies can display frames at the fastest possible rate.