I'll Be Back! for Windows

"While You Were Out" System for Windows

Whether you're going away for a week or just stepping out for a minute, I'll Be Back will leave your screen safe and keep all of the messages you received while you were out. It serves as a screen saver, with your message and choice of icon floating across a customized background color that you create and change. I'll Be Back locks your desktop screen to deter unauthorized use; only someone with the correct password can exit and return to Windows. Others can leave messages for you while you're gone. When you return, simply type in your password and start using your desktop. For two-way message capability, screen lock and screen saver, I'll Be Back is a real bargain!
