

From SilverSun . . .

CrossWire!™ - The Knowledge ConnectionGame

Think Hard, Think Fast. Maybe You'll Win!

CrossWire is the funny, new, fast-paced knowledge game for Windows™ PCs. Simply by clicking your mouse, you connect clues in one column with the matching clue hidden in the opposite column. Sounds easy, right? It is. Unless your time runs out. If you score enough points in the CrossWire Round, you win the right to face a Challenger. And they aren't your typical game show contestants. If you get past the Challenger, you play one final round for prizes.

It's easy to learn, You never have to type. You'll be playing in five minutes! But try to stop after five minutes. CrossWire is too challenging and too much fun.

CrossWire tests your knowledge, your speed, and your strategy.

Variety - Over 8000 clues from sixteen fields of knowledge, including pop culture, history, sports, music, business, science, geography, entertainment, and the arts.

Time Pressure - A clock is ticking in each round to keep the pressure on! But don't worry, you can adjust the clock to control the level of challenge. Play at "leisurely", "challenging", or "wired" levels.

Challengers - You'll have to beat the six CrossWire Challengers to become Grand Champion. Each has different strengths and weaknesses, and of course, a distinctive personality.

Strategy - Your plan for attacking the categories affects your chances of beating the Challengers and getting into the higher Round. Category titles are sometimes disguised, so choose carefully.

Minimum System Requirements:

CPU: 386SX 16MHz or higher

RAM: 2 MB

Hard disk space: 4.6 MB

Graphics card/monitor: VGA or higher; color recommended

Mouse: Required

Operating system: Windows 3.1 or higher

Other: Sound board and speakers recommended