Welcome to the WinOnLine™ Review™
SHAREWARE EDITION

What is this new publication?

I would like to take a moment of your time to explain what this new magazine is about and why we have created it. As many of you know, Windows OnLine™ is the publisher of the WinOnLine™ REVIEW™ (Windows HELP File Magazine). The Review is now published monthly (effective 4/1/93) and is distributed around the world through On-line Services and Bulletin Boards.

The Review has a proud past and has evolved to meet our readers' needs, from the original Weekly to its current content. It has always had a good mix of Windows oriented feature articles, commercial and shareware reviews. Our readers have told us that we should provide more shareware reviews and news in our publications. Those comments only made good sense. Our industry is the BBS world and the distribution of Freeware and Shareware files and programs (Windows, DOS and OS/2). It is with great pride that we present, in response to those requests, the WinOnLine Review SHAREWARE EDITION. It will return to the popular weekly publishing schedule so we can be responsive and quickly bring you information on the latest in shareware.

The Shareware Edition will deal exclusively with the preoccupation of BBS's, On-line Services, Freeware and Shareware. Our main focus will be on Windows, of course, but you'll also see what's new in the DOS and OS/2 worlds. We'll provide weekly listings of the latest files and their descriptions as they appear in the New Files Area of Windows OnLine™. We know what it is like to scan hundreds of files each week looking for those freeware gems, the latest drivers and a special new shareware release. It will be our pleasure to bring you a vast listing of the newest files each week for your treasure-hunting enjoyment. Many of the files you see listed in this publication will be available from your local BBS's. If not, you can be sure though that they are here for you at WOL.

You will welcome our new Shareware Briefs section, with hard-hitting capsule reviews that give you frank opinions and descriptions of the latest shareware and freeware. We hope to call your attention to the special programs, and help you avoid spending your hard-earned on-line time downloading a turkey.

You'll see feature-length Shareware Reviews frequently, for more detail on the pluses, minuses and features of programs. Our fine writers spend hours getting to know a program to bring to you an objective appraisal of just how it performs.

This new magazine will keep you better informed on what is new in shareware and freeware, with the emphasis on Windows. New SWE issues will be available in directory 100 (free access) on Windows OnLine™ (510-736-8343 modem) every Friday night.

What YOU must do . . .

For this magazine to continue we must have YOUR support. There's no such thing as a free lunch. Windows OnLine™ has many expenses to pay -- it is not an easy task preparing these magazines. Therefore, THIS PUBLICATION IS SHAREWARE. We ask you to read the section (in this magazine) describing how to Register your Readership and the very nominal fee requested with the fantastic bonus offer we make in return. Mail in or call Windows OnLine™ and Subscribe to the Shareware Edition. Become a registered reader of this magazine. It will be worth your while in so many ways!

We hope you have enjoyed and profited from our many past issues of WinOnLine™ electronic publications and will continue to do so in the future.

P.S. About the Editors & Writers

So I can devote all my energies to the constant improvement of Windows OnLine™ (BBS), I have decided to let a new fellow (well, he's sort of a fellow) handle much of the Shareware Edition. He just sort of "showed up" here at Windows OnLine™ a few weeks ago and, while a bit on the odd side, has proven to be an invaluable resource. I'm sure you'll get to know "Wolly" as time goes on. If he gets a bit out of control, be sure to let me know so I can reign him in.

Staff members Randy Wong and Bob Gollihur are Co-Editors of the Shareware Edition. They will have the hefty responsibility of controlling "Wolly" in addition to putting out the weekly publication. Best of luck, guys!

ALIENS

Violent Spacey Screen Saver with commercials
(kinda sounds like TV, doesn't it?)

Here's a .SCR file (299K) which can be called from your Windows 3.1 built-in screen saver! Watch (never mind, it runs when you're not there, right?) while alien ships fly around the blackened screen, destroying each other with yellow-orange explosions. Also blanking your screen are pretty but large advertisements. Register WALIENS.ZIP for $10.00 and receive an ad-free copy. Author Marc Tebeka offers a Windows NT version (coming soon) free to all registered users and a 50% discount offer for Aliens: The Game, also to follow.

FONTME!

I need to be fonted at least once a day, don't you?

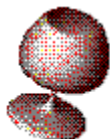

FONTME! is a very welcome addition to the flood of font management programs in the shareware market. Its primary claim to fame is the ability to compare one font with another. With everybody and his brother putting out look-alikes, FontMe! can be a real help in putting your font collection on a diet. But that's only the beginning.

Print samples of your fonts, for comparison purposes, or just for reference, including complete sets with or without the extended characters. There's a pop-up enlargement to 72 points for close inspection, though the character sets in the individual comparison windows can also be up or downsized separately.

If your fonts are out of control, I suggest you download FONTME12.ZIP (331K) and check it out. It produces some pretty nice printed output as well as very useful screen views. FontMe! has that professionally written look and feel and installs easily. VBRUN200.DLL is required to run the program. Registration is just $20.00 and can be done with a credit card through an 800 number for your convenience. Author Fischer Grafix & Software is a member of the ASP.

MICROLATHE

Four Star Graphics WOW!

μLathe

This is too cool! Every so often you run across shareware that makes you go WOW, and this is one of those. MicroLathe is a modeling tool for Windows 3.1 that allows you to create three dimensional objects using the metaphor of the carpenter's lathe. Whether or not you work with graphics, you'll want to check out LATHE151.ZIP (only 101K) if only just to play with it!

After you create a 3-D object, you can color and cast colored light from different directions for effect. There are MANY, MANY options too numerous to mention. I'm not telling you any more about it, other than it's more fun than Windows Solitaire! Download it! Registration for Microlathe is only $15.00; complete 'C' language source is included for a total of $30.00.

Wolly's Pick of the Week!

SOFT KEYBOARD

A warm hearted shareware program for the handicapped

Soft Keyboard is a wonderful example of a practical program for the physically challenged. I typed this section using the program and was very impressed with the forethought and care that obviously went into it. That should come as no surprise. The author is disabled. To quote his readme.txt file: SoftKBD was created in the hope of providing motor impaired individuals with an opportunity to use a powerful computing environment for personal and professional gain. It can do just that.

The program presents a visual representation of a keyboard that can be configured in the typical QWERTY layout or two variations. One simply uses a pointing device within their abilities to choose the key needed; Soft Keyboard sends that character to the active window (a word processor or other application).

There is an extensive lookup table of words that constantly appear and change in the window above the keyboard. The most commonly used words are generally resident, but if you begin a word the lookup table follows your cue and displays words beginning with that string of characters. If the word you want is shown, simply click on it and the application receives the characters necessary to complete the word along with a space.

Soft Keyboard is not only impressive from its technological achievement, but also from its intelligent design and heart. As one who is well acquainted with physical disabilities (Wolly can't speak), it warms my heart to see this wonderful program offered in the shareware market for such a reasonable fee. Again, to quote the author: As a disabled individual I know the very high cost of special devices for the handicapped. Therefore, SoftKBD is released as Shareware for a $20 registration fee. I am most impressed with both Mr. Leotti and SKBD20.ZIP (121K).

D'MENU

At last, a use for my Right Mouse Button!

This is totally unfair! I was all prepared to jump all over what I figured was another look-alike menu program, but D'MENU fooled me into liking it with its slightly new twist to the genre! Click your right mouse button on any title bar or anywhere on the desktop and D'MENU pops up with a slim bar of program titles to click upon. Slim indeed, with only a 31K .exe and less than 7K .dll. Somebody get this guy a job with Microsoft, quick!

Your menu can hold up to 35 entries that can be easily rearranged, and separator bars can be added to help differentiate groups of programs. Adding programs is easy, but could have been even easier with the addition of a browse function. If this type of menu appeals to you, check out DMENU.ZIP (15K bytes). I use another menu system, and I wish mine would appear so readily. Registration is only $15.00 to the little town of Pequea, PA.

REMINDE ME
to forget about this one

Another Windows alarm clock. This one pops up your custom message to remind you. A cute WAV file is included, but no way is explained to use it. It seems too long for a normal system sound, which seems to be what's triggered. The registration of $25.00 for RM100.ZIP (45K) includes a one year membership to the author's BBS (precise terms undefined). Perhaps the board is good, but Remind Me will soon be forgotten unless significantly improved. Version 1.0 is lacking.

DATELINE

Forget it! What I need is a better LINE to get a DATE!

Another Clock/Resources Bar with a slight difference. The same author as above repeats his offer of a $25.00 registration including a year on his BBS. This time, it's a bar with the day of the week, month, day (number), time, AM/PM, total memory, and largest free block memory. The minor twist is that it can be set to play a WAV file on the hour every x minutes. Bet that gets annoying after a while. There are a couple freeware programs that will do pretty much the same except playing a WAV. While this program is certainly better executed than Remind Me, but you can't help wondering why they weren't combined. DL104.ZIP (65K) is here if you think you want it.

CONVERTER

How many nanoseconds are there in a millennium?

There are a number of Windows conversion utilities, but this one deserves a look-see. It's a nice variation on the theme with different screens with categories of "Measures": Area, Household, Length, Weight, Volume, Temperature, Publishing, Time, Velocity, Energy, Tire Pressures (where'd that one come from!?). Rather than specifying a unit of measure and then a target unit, all of the units of measure are calculated and displayed. Time displays twelve units of measurement from nanoseconds to millenniums. Do you know how many nanoseconds there are in a millenium? (do you care?)

One bug complaint, however: the program dumped me quick with an error message when I accidentally pressed "enter" on a blank field. I guess it's time for version 1.01. However, at the paltry price of $5.00, I would download CONVRTR1.ZIP and forgive the lack of error catching in this version.

BULLETIN MAKER

Church Bulletin Program

Here's a program to create those weekly church bulletins. It's pretty well done, with some nice text editing capabilities and formatting. You can use your collection of fonts, and mix fonts on the same page, but not on the same line. Can't use any graphics, either. It's an okay program, and if you have a need you might want to look it over. BULMAK.ZIP (338K) is a healthy $49.95. I suppose if it were my church, I'd look into Ami Pro, MS Word, JustWrite! or the like. More capabilities, and I could use it for more than just the weekly bulletin.

Wolly Shareware FROWNS:

Wolly hates DOC file extensions in his Windows shareware program zips!! C'mon authors, get it together. Wolly wants to double click into his association to read those documentation files with Notepad. Wolly hates to wait for fat old Microsoft Word to load and convert your lousy 1200 character text file! DOC is for MSWord, TXT is for pure text, WRI is for Windows Write, SAM is for AmiPro, etc. Wolly can excuse this in DOS shareware, but in Windows?!? Get with the program! <g> (or Wolly will refuse to associate with you).

For those who didn't take woodshop, that's the tool in which you place a length of wood, it spins and you put a cutting tool against it. You mean you didn't make a baseball bat in 10th grade?!?

Fileware™ 2.1 DocuPower™ 1.3

Word for Windows 2.0 is one of today's most popular word processing programs. But, for all its power and versatility, Word for Windows is not without a few shortcomings and omissions. To correct some of these deficiencies and to add considerably more power to the basic program, Total System Solutions has developed two programs that definitely deserve to be part of your Word for Windows word processing system. These programs, Fileware™ 2.1 and DocuPower™ 1.3, correct many of Microsoft's oversights as well as adding several features that Microsoft possibly never thought to add to the program.

Both Fileware and DocuPower seamlessly integrate into Word for Windows. Although either program may be used alone within Word, their combined power and versatility is considerably greater when both programs are added. Both programs are easily installed through DOC files. These files serve as both on-line user's guides and as automatic program installers. In addition, the help system included with both programs is uncommonly comprehensive and will answer virtually every question you'll have about using both programs.

Fileware 2.1

Fileware is a combination of thirteen utilities, or mini-applications, that handle chores such as file maintenance, document management, and program launching. The following is a brief description of what each of these utilities does to make your word processing easier and more productive.

Directory Jump

The Directory Jump feature allows you to quickly and easily switch between the directories you use most often. This utility allows you to list up to eight of the directories you most frequently access without going through the usual directory structure. Each of the directories is accessed by clicking on a Directory Jump button that you configure and name yourself. Rather than a short, sometimes cryptic name, you can specify your own directory names in plain English. So, instead of a directory called SLLTW493, you could call the directory Sales Leads-Western-1993.

Fast Files

The Fast Files utility is a document management tool that offers you immediate access to your files. Fast Files allows you to create a customized list of document descriptions only a simple mouse click away. Instead of trying to remember what a file called SR2-93TJ.DOC contains, you can attach a plain English description, such as Status Report for Tom Jones-February 1993 to the file to completely describes the file. This feature is especially useful for those documents and files you access regularly. The Fast Files utility reduces confusion and will definitely make finding your work simpler and faster.

Word Lock

Many of us occasionally work with sensitive or confidential documents. Though you may want to keep this information private, few of us would want to completely shut down the system to take a break. The Word Lock feature allows you to prevent others from seeing this information if you leave your computer unattended. With the Word Lock utility of Fileware, keeping prying eyes away from your documents is simply a matter of a mouse click. Although Word for Windows does have a protection system for individual documents, Word Lock provides protection for the entire application. When Word Lock is enabled, it is impossible to open any Word for Windows document.

Set Password

The Set Password utility is a companion program for the Word Lock feature. This utility allows you to set or change your password. As a safety feature, the program will not allow any password to be changed without first entering the correct current password.

Close All Files

The multiple-document interface available in Windows is a very useful feature if you're working on several related files at one time. But, once finished, you must then go through each file and close each individually. With the Close All Files utility one mouse click will automatically close every file. When accessed, this program offers you two choices, Prompt to Save Each One and Close All Together Now. The Prompt to Save Each One is the default and prompts you to save changes before closing. If all the open files are saved, the files will be closed without prompting. The Close All Together Now option will close all open files without saving. This is faster and quite useful if you were only reading the files and do not want any changes saved. Once all the files are closed, the utility automatically opens a new document, ready to begin your next task.

Exit Windows

The Exit Windows utility allows you to get out of Windows quickly and easily, right from within Word for Windows. So, if you want to bail out of the Windows program, a simple mouse click will get to the DOS prompt faster than you can say good-bye. Exit Windows is an easy, fast, reliable and completely safe way to get out of Windows. Like the Close All Files utility the program will prompt you to save any unsaved files before it exits Windows.

Make Directory

One annoying characteristic of Word for Windows, (as well as other word processing programs) is the clumsy way of accessing the system to perform directory and file management tasks. The Make Directory utility provides a simple and easy way to instantly create directories without ever leaving Word for Windows. So, the next time you finish a document and realize that you need a new directory to put it in, your new directory is only a few keystrokes away. Rather than leaving the document unsaved as you wander through your system to create the new directory with file manager, you can make the new directory without ever leaving Word for Windows, or your document.

Rename File

One operation we all perform frequently is changing the names of the files on our systems. But, this is usually done through file manager, or some other utility program. With the Rename File utility you can now change the file name from directly inside Word for Windows. So, rather than simply duplicating the file by saving it with another name with the Save As option in the File Menu and deleting the old file later, you can now do the complete operation without leaving Word.

Delete File

The Delete File utility permits you to delete any file or document whether it is open or closed right from within Word for Windows. Files may be deleted from any of your drives: floppy, local, or network. No more trips to file manager just to delete a file. Now you can do it without leaving Word.

Copy File

The Copy File utility provides a simple and fast way to copy any file or document without ever leaving Word for Windows. Files may be copied to any of your drives: floppy, local, or network. Again, no more separate trips to file manager just to copy a file. Now you can do it right from within Word.

Move File

The Move File utility, like the Copy File utility provides a simple and fast way to move any file or document without ever leaving Word for Windows. Files may be moved to any of your drives: floppy, local, or network. No more wasted time going through the file manager just to move a file. Now you can move your files without leaving Word.

Edit Templates

Templates are one of the most useful features of Word for Windows. But, changing or editing templates can be a real chore. The Edit Templates utility of Fileware however offers you instant access to your templates, without hunting through the whole system. A simple mouse click on the Edit Templates button automatically takes you to your templates, no matter where they are. So, if you keep your templates with the main Winword directory, or a separate directory, the Fileware program finds these files and lists them for you. You can then select the template you want to change and access it with a mouse click. When your editing is finished, simply close the template and Fileware returns you to your document, right where you left it.

Run Buttons

The Run Buttons utility allows you to launch any other program right from within Word for Windows. No more searching through the Program Manager (or any other Windows shell) to find your application. The Run Buttons utility has a series of configurable buttons to launch your twelve most common applications, without leaving Word for Windows. In addition, there is even a command line interface to allow you access to any program by simply entering the file name of the application you want to run.

All of these individual Fileware modules are easily accessible from the main Fileware window. But, should you desire to bypass the Fileware window to run specific modules directly from the menu bar, the Fileware Power Tools utility included with the program, gives you direct access to all Fileware modules. With this utility you can assign any, or all Fileware functions directly to any menu, key combination, or toolbar button. For example, you can assign Rename File to the "File" menu, or Word Lock to the "Tools" menu... run Directory Jump from the Control+Shift+J key combination... or launch Run Buttons from an "R" button on the toolbar.

DocuPower 1.3

DocuPower is a unique and almost indispensable addition to Word for Windows. One of the more serious limitations of any computer system is the operator. If you are like me you sometimes forget where you put an important file. Then, when you need this file to complete a rush job, you may spend an hour searching through every directory on your system. Well DocuPower, may not help you with your searching, but it might help to eliminate the need to search through your directories in the first place.

Quite often the projects we work on require several different files. Sometimes these files are easy to keep together and sometimes they aren't. One recent project I had involved an article with a variety of text files, letters, reports, a couple spreadsheet graphics, and a half dozen or so graphics. As you might suspect, these files were spread over my complete system in over fifteen sub directories. Fortunately though I had DocuPower installed and rather than pulling out my hair, I simply combined all these files in a single file folder. They were then right at my finger tips and with only minimal effort I was able to complete the job.

You might say "So, what's the big deal? Anybody can move files around." Well, the big deal was I didn't move a single file. The folder I used was a pseudo-directory set up by the DocuPower program that allowed me to group all these files in a single place without actually moving any of them.

DocuPower is a powerful document management tool that makes organizing and accessing your work a snap. The program maintains eight separate lists of files, called folders. Each folder has a push-button with a descriptive, plain English name that you create and assign. Simply click on a folder button and it opens a list of document descriptions. These descriptions are also written in plain English. This list will keep as many document descriptions as you need for any job there's no limit to the number of files or descriptions you can add to a folder. No matter how you have your DOS directory structure organized (or disorganized, if you're like me.) DocuPower keeps all the files you need always on hand, immediately accessible.

When you create or use a document or file that you know you'll come back to again, just point and click to put it in a folder. Using plain English names for both the folders and files will help you find what you need faster and without the usual confusion. The folders may be used to keep all related items together. And every item can be opened, inserted or printed.

Another useful addition to the DocuPower program are the macros in the Enhanced DocuPower Pack included with the program. When these macros are installed they change the Open option in the File Menu to a window where you can select to open a file normally, or open a DocuPower folder. In addition to the Open option, there are also macros that are added to the Save and Save As functions. Here, when you save a document you are offered the option of assigning the document to a DocuPower folder.

Word for Windows is truly a powerful and versatile program. But even this program can benefit from the addition of Fileware and DocuPower. If you use Word for Windows as your word processor, these two programs can make your life much easier and help automate many of the tasks you are forced to do manually today. Members of Windows OnLine can find Fileware as FW21.ZIP and DocuPower as DPWR13.ZIP in Directory #150 - (Windows-New Uploads).

About Memberships

Windows OnLine™ Interactive Database Services

What does Windows OnLine offer it's membership?

1. FILES!

We have been told that we have one of the most extensive Windows file databases anywhere in the world. Also, because we are so discriminating, we supply you with some of the best and latest DOS, OS/2 files!

You won't find a lot of "junk" files on WOL. As our regular members know, we pride ourselves on having better file descriptions and, once our files are out of the recent uploads directory, unlike other bbs's, all of OUR file dates are CORRECT!

We have many features at WOL to make your Windows file collecting both fast and easy. We remove dupes and older files as fast as we can find them.

WE supply almost all files you see here. Therefore, you can be sure that you will see many new files every day, that is our pledge to our membership.

Is there more? ... you bet! But, I'll let you discover some of our innovations for yourself.

2. Network (Message) System

Receive support from within our own local message conferences, or access the world! Windows OnLine is your doorway to four international mail networks:

Your account is only charged for what you use.

Membership fees are non-refundable - memberships can not be upgraded or downgraded. You may purchase and use more than one membership at a time. Your Membership expires when any one of your limits are reached. You can renew your membership at any time and your new membership will start when your old membership expires.
