GREAT CROP!

There was a great selection of Windows files on the board these past two weeks, as you can see from our new file listings. Wolly was particularly happy and his delight shows in the Shareware Briefs columns, with some real winners worth your consideration. Wolly had to interrupt getting his summer tan during his week off to get started on the current crop here this week, and to reflect on what's happened in the past:

INDEX FILES

To aid the sharewareaholics in the crowd, Wolly put together an index of all the programs reviewed in the WinOnLine Review Shareware Editions Issues 1 through 14. You'll find the listings in the new Index section. Two indices are included: one by product name and another by product type. We hope that this will help you find programs to evaluate or to consult Great Oracle Wolly before downloading a file. With this issue 15 we've reviewed over 175 programs.

ARC DIB
Graphic success!

Collections of artwork can easily get out of hand. ArcDIB is a database for graphics that allows you to easily collect and organize image data from various sources and in different formats and compress them for storage. WAV sound files can even be attached to your stored files. BMP, DIB, PCX, TIF, GIF, Fax, TGA, JPG, WMF, WPG, AVI, and OLE files are supported.

Thumbnail representations of your stored and cataloged graphics are pictured for easy identification and retrieval. The Show button will decompress your graphic, if necessary, and display it in the box or full screen. When storing your graphics you may choose to leave them uncompressed or choose from LZW (lossless), JPEG (some loss), or attach your own compression DLL. A wonderful feature is the ability to add notes of up to 4000 characters associated with the graphic, which later can be searched using the built-in facility.

As you can see from the full screen graphic, ARC Dib is very easy to use and is well worth your audition if you wish to both organize and reduce the size of your graphics collections. Multiple databases may be easily created to further categorize your files. Spend some time with ARCDIB20.ZIP (335K) and be pleased with its features, ease of use, and reasonable $28.00 registration fee.

HIGHER ACHIEVEMENT
Anything is possible with the right attitude and tools

Personal Information Managers come and go, and most are simply databases. Higher Achievement starts off with the right attitude based on its name and follows through with features that go beyond utility. Anyone who is successful knows that a winning attitude can take you a lot further than simple facts. Higher Achievement brings the usual PIM features to the table: a day planner showing your schedule along with prioritized tasks and goals, a work log, alarm functions and drag and drop features. You have to admire the ease with which features are provided, accessed and maintained. Other features include an well organized appointment calendar, a project planner which allows drag and drop of tasks to your to-do list, and a contact tracker with accommodation for all types of information. A customizable desktop can also provide easy access to other programs and tools and a good way to avoid Program Manager. And there's more.

The various screens are functional and immediately apparently useful. The Achievement Planner's charm is in its use as you play with its many features and take pleasure in the manner in which they all interact. Careful, though, this program is very resource-hungry. Some of the more esoteric features that truly differentiate this program from the average PIM are disabled, though I did get a kick out of the crystal ball which can be used to ponder or consult, which was enabled. Higher Achievement refers to the features as Intelligence Enhancers, and they include an idea and solution generator, contact strategies, and decision aids. These could not be evaluated as they are not included in the unregistered version. Higher Achievement has the right spirit and the right stuff. APIM21.ZIP (166K) can be registered and made complete for $29.95. The publisher also discounts "The Achievement Seminar" for $19.95, touted as an interactive personal development program when ordered with your registration.

Dubiel Plain TT_DUBL.ZIP (41K)

Madison Avenue MADAVE.ZIP (32K)

Temple Regular TEMPLE.ZIP (31K)

Font names are keyed in upper and lower cases prior to being changed to the True Type font shown. The results shown speak for themselves.

BRAIN JAM
Solitaire preserves

This version of solitaire is similar to the final solution: placing the cards in stacks ace-first followed by the remainder of the deck. Except that the body of cards are not in order! The game is nicely executed, with the cards gliding to their obvious destinations at the click of your mouse. You may even undo mistakes in strategy with the Backtrack! feature. Solitaire fans will want to check this one out. BRAINJ14.ZIP (47K) may be registered for $16-20, which seems to be a bit high for this one-trick pony, however nice.

This was one of the first shareware programs I saw that really convinced me of the value of Windows, many moons ago when I still worshipped DOS. The impression of WYSIWYG is still strong, with additional features to make this latest release even stronger. Recording your own road music to shove into the car's cassette player is still a popular preoccupation, and Cassette Case Liner helps you make that generic tape look sharp with your own custom J-Card. Choose from your fonts for different sections, special notes for noise reduction, time, etc., and print a sharp looking card ready to be cut, folded and inserted. CASLNR38.ZIP (53K) may be registered for $12.00; add $3.00 if you'd like the latest version returned to you on a disk of your choice.

SUPER CRAPS
Wagering in cyberspace
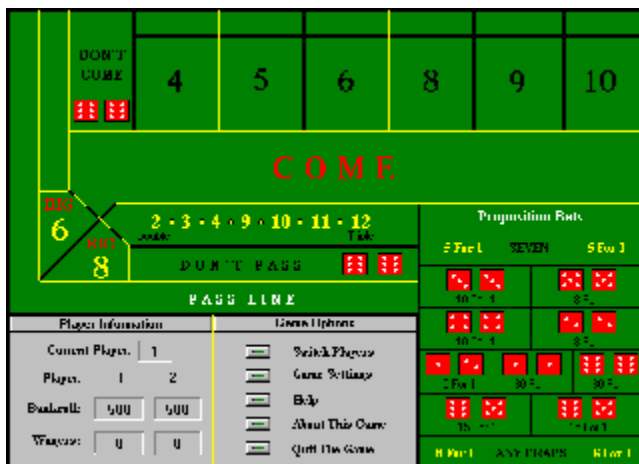

Ever since Wolly began summering on the Cape of New Jersey he has been bugging everyone to take him to Atlantic City. Programs such as Super Craps is one of the only ways to keep him away. Wagering electronic chips is a lot safer than dealing with reality for both of us. Besides, it's probably for the better; I fear that Wolly's considerable charm might cause Marla to leave The Donald. WOL doesn't need that kind of tabloid publicity. Super Craps is designed more for the player who already understands how the game is played. No tutorial or rule book is included though the help file can give you some concepts if you've never played the game. Odd sounds accompany many of the actions; fortunately they can be turned off. SCRAPS10.ZIP

(136K) can be registered for $25.00. Probably cheaper than a few rolls of the dice in A.C.

CREDIT REPORT REPAIR KIT
The fix is in . . .

Recent times have not been conducive to the employment picture, and many who lived off the fat of the land in the artificial eighties are riding rougher waters in the nineties. Leave it to many "opportunists" who advertise that they will "fix" your credit report --- for a fee (like, if you had cash would your credit report be bad?). Sadly, they take advantage of many. "Fixing" your credit report carries implications on which these folks can seldom deliver. Even some of the major credit agencies themselves are preying on paranoia and soliciting for people to subscribe to a periodic report of their credit to monitor it. There is no doubt that good credit is an intangible asset which can play an important part in your financial life, and inaccurate reports are a problem. Accurate reports can not often be altered

I'm not too crazy about components of this program, though parts are quite valid. It is essentially bait to get you to buy their book (this same technique was done to promote a prior publication by this publisher). Their hints and tips contain some misinformation in my opinion, and your editor's opinion is backed by 22 years in the banking industry. You may be able to mitigate some negative data in your report, but facts are facts. I suggest that you browse your bookstore for a less expensive alternative to WNCREDIT.ZIP (248K) at $49.95 or consult a local non-profit organization which counsels those with credit problems or credit report problems. I cannot say that downloading this program is a waste of time, since there are a few concepts and ideas with merit. However, overall caution is in order as there are too many people out there more than willing to part you from what little you have left.

MINI CAL
Maxi-benefit

If all you crave is an appointment calendar, Mini Cal may be the solution to your want. Be warned: this one is different, but it's hard to explain. It just feels right, and that doesn't happen often.

Two weeks appear displaying your obligations, goals, reminders, or whatever you'd like. Browse with ease, or pop up a small full month calendar to prompt the display to jump to a date in the past or future. Calendar days can expand to show you more information, which is indicated by an icon on the date. Alarms are also available, and handy icons give you quick access to that feature and others. Mini Cal is simple but effective and easy to use, reminiscent of the days when you relied on your pocket calendar. Download   MINICA.ZIP (141K) to see if it strikes you a familiar and easy way to keep track of your uncomplicated life. PIMS are for the detail oriented. Registration is $15.00.

FAST MOUSE
lots a fun

This little exercise is at first unimpressive. However, you will quickly find yourself addicted to the silly little mouse game. Choose a background to display to liven up the game. Select your targets, their number and behavior. Dart around the screen and try to obliterate them with a click (not as easy as it looks!) and listen to the sound effects when you hit or miss. Your shot ratio is displayed after the round is over. FSTMOU10.ZIP (107K) is good a mouse-familiarizing tool as well a just plain fun and can be registered for a mere $5.00.

BMP BROWSE
I know it's in their somewhere!
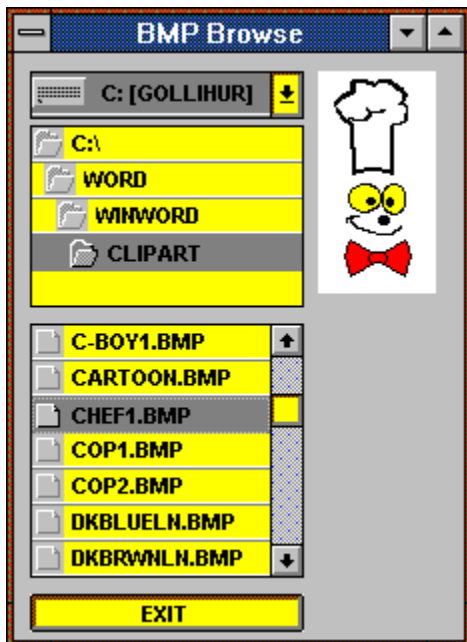

Simple but elegant. BMP Browse neatly displays the BMP graphics highlighted through the file window. My only complaint is that subdirectories are not listed alphabetically, slowing my search for the right one. Register for as little as $3.00 if you're happy with the version you downloaded as BMPBRW10.ZIP (98K) and receive a number to terminate the shareware screen. Pay more if you'd like the current version or a subscription to future releases. BMP Browse doesn't do anything more than its name suggest in the form of BMP management or anything else, but the author is most intelligently reasonable in his registration fee.

VISUAL BASIC 3.0
It's Here!
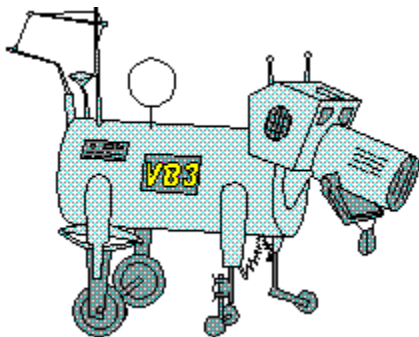

If you haven't read about it, Visual Basic 3.0 has been issued and a flurry of new shareware products and updates are sure to follow. Grab VBRUN300.ZIP (231K) and add the DLL to your Windows directory and be ready for the latest!

IconMaster 1.2D

Windows has dramatically changed the way we work with computers. Rather than a DOS prompt, today we're all clicking this or clicking that to get to where we need to go. One of the more compelling aspects of the Windows environment is its GUI (graphical user interface). Instead of remembering long and complex file names and locations, today we need only click on an icon to run a program.

The area of icons in Windows is where many users like to experiment and become creative. Microsoft furnishes a selection of different icons with the basic Windows program. But, lets face it, most of these are generic symbols that anyone can use. To truly personalize your Windows setup you'll want to select from a wider range of icons than those provided with the basic Windows program. Or, if you are really bold and adventurous, you'll want to create your own icons. To satisfy this desire, there are a large number of icon editors available as either commercial software or as shareware. After looking at quite a few of these programs, the one I use most often and recommend to others needing a good icon utility program is IconMaster.
The IconMaster program is a complete icon utility program. You can use this program as a viewer to see the icons you presently have as well as any you may wish to add to your system.

Other, less sophisticated icon management tools only show icons one at a time. IconMaster, on the other hand, allows you to view up to 400 icons per window. Then, by simply double clicking on the icon you want to edit, the editing window appears with the icon already loaded, ready to edit or modify.
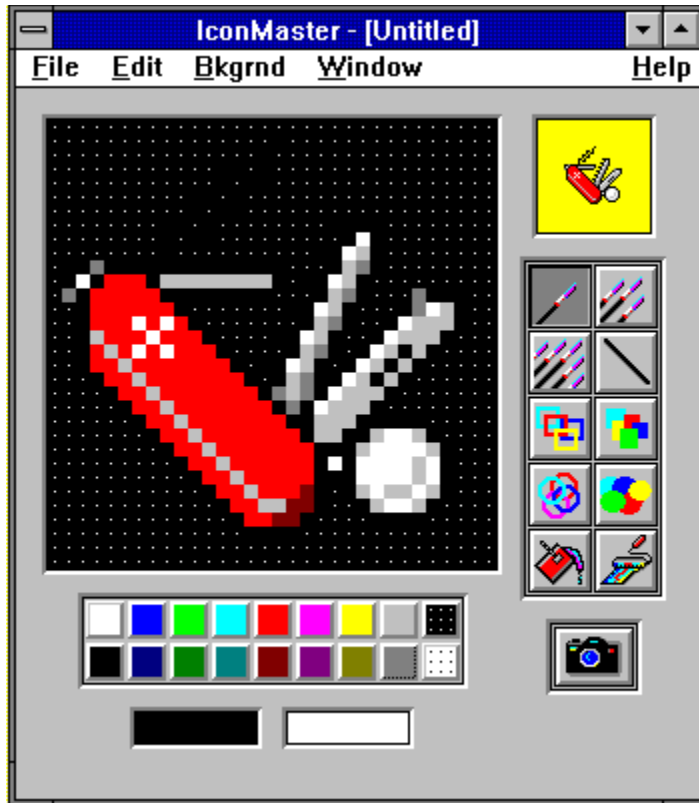

Generally, when creating icons, I've found the simplest way to proceed is to first load an icon that shows something similar to what I want. I can then use the IconMaster program to perform all the modifications. There are times however, where I start with a blank editing screen and create an icon from the ground up. The editing screen has a variable sized editing window that allows you to set the window to whatever size is comfortable for you. A preview window is included in the upper right corner of the screen. This shows you exactly what the icon looks like at each step of its construction. This preview area even has a selectable background color so you'll be able to see how it will actually look with your arrangement. The icons you create or edit may be drawn with either a colored or transparent background. The colored background will produce an icon 32 X 32 pixels in up to 16 colors. For those icons where you want the screen or wallpaper color to show behind the icon, the transparent attribute can be added to the areas without color. The transparent areas are shown on the editing screen with black boxes with a white dot in the center. The program also has Undo and Revert commands, just in case you decide to go back to an earlier saved version of your icon.

This program has many more features than the space permitted here allows me to explain. Some of the more unique and useful features of the IconMaster program are as follows:

-        Read and write many different icon file formats including .ICO, .EXE

.DLL, ZIP, .ICA, .ICL, .IL, NIL, IMZ, and .IML
-         Extract and edit icons within EXE files
-         Capture screen images into icons
-         Install icons into the Program Manager and Norton Desktop using drag-and-drop
-         Sort icons into various directories using drag-and-drop
-         The fastest and smallest icon file formats available
-         Open up to four Preview windows at a time
-         Displayed icons labeled with their individual names
-         Drag-and-drop icons between Preview windows and to the Edit window or Program Manager

So, if you work with icons, you should definitely take a close look at the IconMaster program. If you're like me you'll stop looking once you have this program on your system.
