

The superior and inferior subscapular nerves arise from the posterior cord (C5, C6) of the brachial plexus on either side of the thoracodorsal nerve. The superior subscapular nerve is smaller than the inferior subscapular nerve but it may be double.

Supply

The superior subscapular nerve supplies the subscapularis muscle.