

The costal facets, which articulate with the facets on the tubercles of the sixth pair of ribs, are concave and circular in shape and face in an antero-lateral direction. They are located on the anterior aspects of the transverse processes, near the apex and are covered with hyaline cartilage.