

The costal facets, which articulate with the whole of the facets on the heads of the first pair of ribs, are circular and concave facets. They are situated on the postero-superior aspects of both sides of the vertebral body and are covered with hyaline cartilage.