

Levatores costarum breves arise from the apices of the transverse processes of C7 to T11. Each attaches to the superior edge and lateral surface of the rib immediately below the vertebra, between the tubercle and angle.