

Levatores costarum longi arise from the apices of the transverse processes of T7 to T10. Each attaches to the superior edge and lateral surface of the second subjacent rib between the tubercle and angle.