

Proximal Attachment

Obliquus capitis inferior is the largest of the 'suboccipital' muscles; it arises from the lateral surface of the spinous process and adjacent lamina of C2.

Distal Attachment

It passes supero-laterally to attach to the infero-posterior aspect of the transverse process of C1.