

The lateral sacrococcygeal ligaments are similar to the intertransverse ligaments. They connect a coccygeal transverse process to an infero-lateral sacral angle, completing the foramen for the S5 spinal nerve.