

Below the lumbosacral enlargement the spinal cord tapers into a cone-shaped tip, the conus medullaris, from which the filum terminale projects.