

The anterior spinal artery is a continuation of the cranial part of the vertebral artery. It descends in the midline anterior to the spinal cord. Spinal branches from the vertebral, ascending cervical, posterior intercostal and lumbar arteries reinforce it.