

The transverse processes of the axis (C2) can be identified with deep palpation on the lateral aspect of the neck, a finger's breadth below the transverse processes of C1 (atlas).