

The large spinous process of the axis (C2) is the first prominent bony landmark below the external occipital protuberance, in the posterior midline.