

The cutaneous branches of the first, second and third sacral dorsal rami supply skin over the lower gluteal region.