

The anterior and lateral cutaneous branches of the third thoracic ventral rami supply a band of skin around the thorax from the posterior axillary line over the third intercostal spaces extending to the middle of the second spaces above and the fourth spaces below, as well as skin of the axilla and medial aspects of the arms.