

The anterior and lateral cutaneous branches of the ninth thoracic ventral rami supply a band of skin around the thorax from the posterior axillary line over the ninth intercostal spaces extending to the middle of the eighth spaces above and the tenth spaces below, to the lower half of the region between the xiphisternal joint and umbilicus anteriorly.