

The lesser occipital nerves supply skin on the upper third of the medial aspects of the auricles, posterolateral scalp and neck as far as the level of the angle of the mandibles.