

The small medial branches of the seventh cervical dorsal spinal rami emerge with the lateral branches posterior to the articular pillars of C7 and terminate in the posterior muscles of the neck, which they supply.

Supply

They supply the semispinalis cervicis and capitis, multifidus, interspinales, splenius capitis and cervicis, and spinalis capitis and cervicis muscles.