

The grey rami communicans convey postganglionic non-myelinated fibers from the sympathetic trunk to join the ventral rami. The fibers are then distributed through the dorsal and ventral spinal rami to supply effector organs. Vasomotor fibers supply the smooth muscle of peripheral blood vessels, pilomotor fibers supply hair follicles and sudomotor fibers supply the sweat glands of the skin.