

The splanchnic ganglion, when present, is a swelling located on the greater splanchnic nerve at the level of the eleventh or twelfth thoracic vertebrae.