ABOUT THE WINDOWS DIALOG EXTENSIONS

The Windows Dialog Extensions consist of two utilities to improve the appearance and functionality of windows dialog boxes.

The Common File Dialog Extensions add file manipulation controls to windows file load and save dialogs for windows applications that utilise the standard comdlg.dll supplied with Windows 3.1. You can also select larger dialogs which list more files than the standard file dialogs allow.

Dialog 3d improves the appearance of all dialogs under windows by colouring the background grey and replacing the standard controls (buttons, combo boxes etc) with improved '3d' versions.

HOW TO INSTALL THE FILE DIALOG EXTENSIONS

Firstly the Windows Dialog Extensions require Windows 3.1 and will not work properly under Windows 3.0.

Installation of the extensions must be done from DOS (not a DOS box under Windows) as follows:-

To install the Common File Dialog Extensions

First, rename the file commdlg.dll in the Windows system directory (usually c:\windows\system) to commdlg2.dll.

Next copy the file commdlg.dll from the File Extensions distribution to the Windows system directory.

Finally copy the files details.dll, cfdel.hlp and register.hlp from the File Extensions distribution to the Windows directory (usually c:\windows).

To install Dialog 3d:-

Copy ctl3d.dll, dlg3d.dll and dlgctrl.cpl from the Dialog Extensions distribution to the Windows system directory.

Copy dialog3d.exe, details.dll and register.hlp (if not copied above) to the Windows directory.

Add the program 'dialog3d.exe' as the first program in the 'run=' line of the win.ini file (found in the windows directory). Use any ASCII text editor (notepad for example) to do this.

When you now run windows the Windows Dialog Extension will automatically be installed and activated.
