Thank you for downloading dwpmerge. This program has been released as a shareware program. You are free to copy it, distribute it, upload it, etc. If you like it and want to register it, your $25.00 contribution will be appreciated. For a $50.00 contribution, you will receive the next version of the program.

When you register the program, you will receive its documentation as well as the current bug-free release. This version has one known bug but it does not hinder its operation. When you select a filter condition, the cursor does not display to let you know where you are.

The next release of this program will allow you to select dbf's in a relation, as well as an expanded query mode.

As always, your comments and suggestions are welcome. Please write to the above address or call. Registered users may call on our toll-free number.
