

TEMPERATURE CALCULATOR FOR WINDOWS

Temperature Calculator for Windows is distributed as Freeware. You can use and distribute it as much as you like without being obligated to pay anything for it, as long as such distribution does not entail a charge for it other than the cost of the disk or Download Charges on Commercial Networks. Also the program must be distributed as is, without any modifications and must include this .wri file.

The program in itself is simple to use and self-explanatory. You will however require a copy of VBRUN100.DLL.

If in any way, you feel obligated to pay anything for the program, please send a check of US $ 5.00 or more to the American Red Cross or an equivalent amount to any Red Cross Organization overseas if you are not a US Resident.
