Somerset County cemetery records, Vol. I

[This copy is a transcription of a scanned, graphic version of the Introduction of the book, which was down loaded from "Heritage Quest On-Line.com" March 31, 2004. The original which was scanned by "Heritage Quest On-Line" was from the Pennsylvania State Library. Stamped marks of ownership of that library are found on several pages of the graphic page scans.

Although some of the comments below are critical, it must be noted that the work of Mrs. Fischer was a remarkable reworking of the W.P.A. data for a single person with limited resources to complete at that time.

Most of the text of the original can be read, but there are in many places, characters that are in part obscured, that must be carefully examined, sometimes with a magnifying glass, to be transliterated.

In her recompilation, Della Reagan Fischer, usually omitted the names of children under 16 years of age. To recover those names, it would be necessary to refer to the original peper copies of the W.P.A. records stored a the Mary S. Biesecker Library in Somerset..

Some of the transcriptions which appear in the Internet files: [<http://www.rootsweb.com/~pasomers/townsh.htm>]; appear to be made from the original W.P.A. readings and may contain records of children that are omitted in Mrs. Fischers re-compilation.

Since the cemeteries are not always listed in alphabetical order, Mrs. Fischer gives two alphabetical listings in the Table Of Contents. The first is Alphabetical by Township, the second is Alphabetical by Cemetery Name. However, some of Mrs. Fischer's page numbers in the Table of Contents are in error. In this copy we have corrected these errors.

Also, in some cases there are names out of order in the cemetery lists. Mostly, these appear to be names that were missed at some point, and were then appended to the end of the main listing of the cemetery names.

Although a fourth volume, of eight Lutheran and Reformed church cemeteries is included with this work, It appears to be a completely different project. It appears to have been completed first, and has completely different format, and is paginated separately from the other three volumes. The cemeteries in this "fourth volume" appear to match exactly, eight cemeteries in the first three volumes.

Mrs. Fischer's original recompilation was probably done by mimeograph, which means that only a few, probably less than 50, copies were made, since quality of the resulting pages would be seriously degraded by this point. Some of this loss of quality is evident in the graphic pages scanned by "Heritage Quest On-Line".

SOMERSET COUNTY HISTORICAL SURVEY
Civil Works Administration

BURIAL PLACES AND GRAVES

Since the time when the first white settlers came to the region that is now Somerset County, Many generations have come and gone. No complete census of those whose abode is the cemetery has ever been taken in this county but it is evident that that the population of the Somerset County dead is several times greater than the population of the living. Only on the tombstones will be found the names of many of our citizens of the past. These names will be a most valuable supplement to our family records, found in Bibles, and in other manuscripts, genealogies, land records and census records. By registering all graves up to the date when births and deaths were required to be recorded, and periodic census lists were made, there will be made available a fairly complete record of the population.

No complete Census of earlier generations in Somerset County available.

Tombstones supplement other records.

This tombstone survey covers a known span of 234 years, and how much beyond that, can only be surmised. One stone records the birth of a man in 1700 who died in 1790. Concerning the Indian graves, we know almost nothing, except that the Jersey Cemetery holds the grave of a Christianized Indian.

Covers span of 234 yrs.

In spite of cold and snow and the unusually severe winter weather the survey has recorded to date: 193 burial places
18,744 graves

Number of burial places & graves.

In 165 of these cemeteries there are indicated as soldier graves 19 Revolutionary War graves,
5 War of 1812 graves,

Soldiers graves.

More than a score of the heads of pioneer families of this county have been noted.

Pioneer families.

If one remembers that nearly every grave marker bears its inscription, it may be possible to imagine in part the enormity of the task of recording reliably the information from such a large number of burial places.

Burial places and graves (cont'd)

The historical data on each tombstone or marker is being transcribed accurately in whatever language it appears, and is then also rendered in English. Thus all data available concerning name, date of birth, death, and age, is secured. Many old markers of rough field stone have only one or two initials to indicate the name. On many the lettering has been partly or wholly obliterated. Unusual epitaphs of designs are also copied.

Unmarked graves are likewise carefully noted and an effort is made to establish the identity of the persons buried in them. Frequently this information can be gathered from older residents of that vicinity, who remembers definitely the graves and acquaintances. Often the only information comes from tradition. In a few years more, much of that will be lost. Hence the importance of completing the survey at the earliest possible date.

974.879 V3fd v. 1 FHL US/CAN Book

974.879 V3fd v. 2 FHL US/CAN Book

974.879 V3fd v. 3 FHL US/CAN Book

[The FHL does not have these three books as a microfilm version.

Volume IV is in the FHL catalog as a separate item, rather than as Vol. IV of this book. It appears as: "Evangelical Lutheran and Reformed cemetery inscriptions of Somerset County, Pennsylvania"; Call Number: 974.879 V3f and as: FHL US/CAN Film: 1414853 Item 13. This volume of 8 (or 10?) Cemetery listings of Reformed & Lutheran Ch. Cemeteries appears to be the only part of the book that was originally compiled by Charlotte Hay Beard, & Laura Hay Braddock and dated 1968. (FHLC Lists the Lutheran & the Reformed churches as separate entries, hence the 10 cemetery indexing.) Although Vol. IV says that it was "recompiled" by Della Reagan Fischer, it is difficult to determine what this recompilation consisted of, since she apparently did not rearrange the format into that used in her other compilations.

Volumes I, II, and III are alphabetic within each cemetery, and hence there is no index. The three volumes are continuously paged from 1 through 858. The separation into Volumes I, II, and III is arbitrary to keep the three of approximately equal number of pages.

Volume IV lists the tombstones as they are read, and does have an index. There is also an index of soldier's graves, but this is only for the graves listed in Volume IV. Volume IV is paginated separately from the others. Pages 1 through 223.

Although most of the book is quite readable, parts of some pages are so faint that it is very difficult to make out the text at all. The original was apparently mimeographed. This means that there were probably a very limited number of copies made. The copy in possession of Ora L. Flaningam is from the Pennsylvania State Library, which has stamped its name on several pages.

The copy is a scanned, graphic version of the original, and was down loaded from "Heritage Quest On-Line.com" March 31, 2004]
