The Game

The aim of DFD is to collect all the rectangular stones by touching them with the round stone (DFD stone). For each level there is mostly only one path to collect all the rectangular stones, which you have to find to solve the level. If you failed to find this path, or if the DFD stone is in a position, where it is not possible to move, the level will be started over. You have only three DFD stones to play with. Every moved rectangular stone will add some points to your score. The score, high score and the number of remaining DFD stones will be displayed at the status line. In the shareware version of DFD you have only 20 levels to solve. If you register, you will become 50 levels and an Editor to create your levels.

In DFD there is 4 types of rectangular stones

- Green stones
- Cyan stones
- Red stones
- Light green stones.

By touching a green stone, it will disappear, bringing the DFD stone to the next rectangular stone.

Touching a Cyan stone will bring your DFD stone to the next stone, and changes the DFD stone colour to Cyan. This indicates that you can jump a field. Collecting more than one Cyan stone will increase the number of jumps you can make. Jumping decreases this number. If the DFD stone is black, you will not be able to jump.

Touching a red stone will bring you to the other red stone. Red stones may be two or non.

By touching a light green stone, it will change its colour to dark green, but it will not disappear. By touching it again, it will disappear (light green stones must be touched twice).
