A - Yet

- Yet is used in questions talking about an event that we are expecting to happen.
- It is generally put at the end of the clause.

Example: Have you met him yet?

Note: We answer to this question thus: Yes, we have. Yes, we've met before. - Yes, we've already met him.