1991 Catalog

Once upon a time...
in a place far away...
TI-99/4a graphics were
chaotic and incompatible.
Now, after years of work
there exists a world called

Page Pro 99

Programs for creating:
Banners, Certificates, Posters,
Business forms, Greeting cards,
Advertisements, Newsletters,
Letterheads, Stationary, Labels,
Booklets, Flyers, Calendars,
Tickets, Hand-bills, and Letters

Welcome to the first Page Pro 99 catalog from Asgard Software. Page Pro 99 is the nucleus, as well as the inspiration for all of the products featured in these pages. Using Page Pro 99 and the many utilities and art packages described in this booklet, you can literally create any of the items listed on the front cover: newsletters, banners, flyers, greeting cards, etc.

Page Pro 99 is able to do all of this, do it well, and still be easy-to-use because of its unique design, and a lot of planning. Page Pro's graphics data storage formats are the most flexible, and among the most efficient in the TI community. No other single graphics system for the 99/4A can create the diversity of things that Page Pro can, with as high a quality. Many of the utilities described herein produce the best possible output on a 99/4A - and are years ahead of the competition. This includes Page Pro Poster Maker, Banner Maker, Effects, Sideways Picture Printer, and others.

Of equal importance to the quality of the output is the ease in getting it. Page Pro 99 operates on the principal of "what-you-see-is-what-you-get". No other page layout program for the 99/4A can do this. Using Page Pro 99 you can literally place pictures, text and lines anywhere on the page you like - and the results will look exactly like what is on the screen. All of the utilities for use with Page Pro are based on similar principals of intuitive design.

Page Pro 99 is flexible - using it, and utilities included with the package or sold separately, users can use artwork in virtually all popular graphics formats. You can also use TI-Writer or a compatible word processors for generating text.

Finally, as in life, the little things often count a lot. Page Pro 99 is filled with little features that make big jobs simpler: you can type in any direction; catalog a disk at any filename prompt; print out pages in a variety of modes; use a variety of fonts and line-styles within a page at one time; and even clip portions of the page and save them as pictures. This last feature is one of the most important - using it you can use Page Pro 99 to compose on the screen pages and artwork for use in banners, certificates, greeting cards, posters, signs, and much more. Page Pro is not only the end but also means to other ends.

Page Pro 99 requires a TI-99/4A with 32K, a disk system with at least one disk drive, and an Epson or compatible printer. An extensive set of manuals, example art-work and a tutorial are included. By Ed Johnson and Chris Bobbitt.

Page Pro Effects, by Paul Scheidemantle and Ed Johnson, is a complete package of utilities for manipulating your Page Pro 99 pictures - and an absolute necessity if you are creating a newsletter or flyer.

This versatile program allows you to enlarge, reduce, stretch and squeeze your Page Pro pictures to whatever space you have to fill - in as small as 1% increments. You can even give the program a target size and it will make any enlargements or reductions necessary to make it fit! It will also "ghost" your pictures for you while adjusting their size - perfect for creating backdrop pictures.

This package also includes Page Pro Rotation, which is required for any budding greeting card maker - this utility will rotate your pictures 90°, 180°, or 270° . Also within, the Page Pro Font Editor, by Ed Johnson, is the best tool available for creating your own large, small and line fonts. The Page Pro Effects package also includes a extensive collection of holiday clip-art - comparable in scope to a volume of Page Pro Pics. Requires a disk system, 32K and Extended BASIC.

BANNER MAKER

Why another banner program for the TI-99/4A?

The problem with banner making programs on the TI-99/4A and the Geneve is that they are too limited. Many don't allow you to include pictures, and if they do, they limit where and how many can be placed. Most are limited in how they use fonts. Many are incompatible with standard formats, and you have to baby-sit all of them if you want to make more then one banner. Forget saving a banner and re-printing it later in many. Finally, and worse yet, the results are poor - both letters and pictures are typically crude and are made up of huge unsightly dots that yell "amateurish".

Page Pro Banner Maker, by Chris Bobbitt, is the most professional banner maker available! Not only can you utilize large, beautiful Page Pro pictures in your banner, you can place them wherever you like. Text is similarly beautiful - letters are well formed and look smooth even close-up. There is no real limit on the size or number of words or pictures, you can save banners for later use, and you can have the program print out any number of banners at a time. Best yet, Page Pro Banner Maker is speedy - your printer never stops while creating your banner.

Compatible with Page Pro Headline format fonts and standard Page Pro pics, Banner Maker includes an extensive collection of both, as well as example banners and a lengthy manual and tutorial.

Requires an Epson or compatible printer and either a TI-99/4A with Extended BASIC or Editor/Assembler, 32K and a disk system, or a Geneve.
