MAIL ORDER INFORMATION

Thank you for inquiring about our TI 99/4A products and services. We have been supporting the TI 99/4A since 1982 and we will continue to do so in the future. We have the largest genuine TI hardware and software selection of anyone we know of.

Most items we sell are pre-owned or used, some are new, the price is the same except as noted! If there is a particular item you are looking for and do not find it in our catalog, please call to see if we may have it. We ship usually the same day you order. Our prices do not include shipping (see "shipping" below). You can pay by check, money order or bankcard (visa, or Mastercard) - please include the expiration date on the bankcard and the name exactly as it is printed on your card. If you choose to prepay by check, please include shipping charges. A daytime phone number is a big help.

The easiest for us and cheapest for you is to use your credit card for payment,

You don't have to estimate UPS charges, you save the cost of the money order or trip to the post office. We only charge your credit card for items shipped and there is

NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR CREDIT CARDS!

30 Day Warranty - Within 30 days, any defective item you buy from us may be returned freight prepaid with a copy of your invoice from us for replacement of an identical item only! Your only cost is freight to us, we pay freight back to you. The item must be complete as you received it with all documentation. We will offer you a like item or credit toward future purchases if we do not have another one in stock. This does not include items that are not defective - see below.

RETURN POLICY; Non-defective returns subject to 30% restocking charge AND STORE CREDIT ONLY GIVEN!

NO REFUNDS! DON'T ASK!

SHIPPING CHARGES:

Software $3 minimum or 6% of order total
Hardware $6 minimum or 10% of order total.
You will be refunded any amount over what UPS or the Post Office actually charges us. PE Boxes are very heavy and require special packaging so allow as much as $30 for shipping for these.

CA residents add sales tax!

24 hour orders!

If you order when we are closed on our 24 hour answering machine be sure to give us description and part numbers and your name & complete address & daytime phone number & the expiration date on your credit card. If you stop talking for 5 seconds, the machine will assume you are done & hang up. If it does & you were not done simply call back & add to your previous message.

Please let us know what to do if an item you order is not available. Your choices are:

1. Put the item on backorder. We will ship when we receive it.
 2. Put the item on backorder and notify you before shipping.
 3. Substitute with a similar product.
 4. Cancel ordered item - send a refund or return your check if you've prepaid.
 5. Issue a credit for future purchases (prepayment only).
- Any of the above choices may be changed by you at a later date. We never know what will be received from day to day, as we get boxes of items daily and find all kinds of surprises. If you are waiting for a particular item, keep the faith, we will probably have it eventually.

We do purchase some TI items, send us a list.

What is all this stuff? Hints & Tips!

In November of 1983 TI stopped making the TI 99 and related products. They are still popular today because they are still the best home computer if you have young children.

The TI-99/4A came with a video modulator, power supply (black box transformer that plugs into the wall), 2 books (a blue one and a green one but no software except the basic language that is built into the computer. Software is simply instructions for the hardware and it is available for the TI on 3 different media forms.

1. Solid State Command Modules (cartridges - easiest to use, just plug in).

2. Cassette Tape (just like audio tape you listen to music on). Slow but inexpensive. Most ordinary cassette players will work with the TI but some that do not have tone control will not work properly. You will need an interface cable to connect it to the computer (our #142622).

3. Diskette. Diskette offers the most convenience but it is the most expensive. You need the PE Box for this.

The computer will work just fine with a TV if you have the Video Modulator that connects the two. A color monitor gives a sharper picture. You may want to add the Peripheral Expansion System (PE Box) so you have disk storage available to you. The PE Box accommodates the disk drive, the memory expansion, the RS-232 interface card (additional cost) and more. Also included is the Disk Manager cartridge that is programmed with disk utilities and file maintenance commands for copying & deleting files, copying diskettes and naming & renaming disks. You can store 90k bytes in each disk and 180k if you get the double sided disk drive option. The dual drive option then gives you 360k total (180k each) on line disk storage. If you order the Double Density Controller Card, you will get 360k on each double sided disk drive. The 32K memory expansion card (included in the PE

Box) gives you a total of 48K memory. (16 in the console & 32 in the PE Box) The RS-232 Card has two ports on it to allow you to use a printer on the (16 pin) PIO port and a serial device such as a modem on the DB-25 (25 pin) serial port. Be sure to turn on the PE Box first before turning on the computer or the computer will not recognize the PE Box.

The Speech Synthesizer plugs into the side of the TI and allows the TI to talk using the Speech Editor or Terminal Emulator II cartridge. You do not need the PE Box to use the Speech Synthesizer. Some of the Cartridge games have speech capability. (they are noted in our catalog)

The TI can use floppy disks that are single or double sided but they have to be single or double density, NOT high density. Disks for the old Apple, Commodore 64, IBM PC etc. all work fine but every disk you use has to be formatted with the TI disk manager cartridge to work.

The Wired Remote Controllers are joysticks and if your joysticks won't go up it's probably because you have the alpha lock button down on the keyboard.

To use a printer you need the PE Box plus the RS-232 Card plus a cable to connect the printer to the PE Box or a Printer Interface that plugs into the right side of the computer (Speech Synthesizer Port). Most printers will work with the TI but EPSON printers are also TI graphics compatible. We will not sell printers as you can find them locally just make sure your printer emulates an EPSON MX-80 and don't let them sell you a IBM cable. Make sure you get a manual that shows the pinout of your printers connector and we can make you a cable for $25 max if your printer doesn't use stock cables. By the way don't buy the TI thermal printer or you will really regret it as the paper isn't cheap and turns a horrible color obscuring anything printed on it after only a short time.

SUPER- DUPER

Safeguards masters fast. Use the high-speed Super-Duper program cartridge to duplicate your disks, single and double sided, then lock away your originals. For single drive-systems, a special data-compression routine stores most of your information in expanded memory to reduce disk swapping. Most disks are copied in one or two passes — and Super-Duper works even faster with multiple-drive systems. The program automatically formats blank diskettes before copying and allows you to verify your back-ups byte for byte against the originals.
