MotoGP 2

August 2001: The most exhilarating motorcycle racing experience ever seen on a games console is hitting the streets soon, as Sony Computer Entertainment Europe announces the launch of its latest release for petrolhead gamers, MotoGP 2.

Developed by Namco, creators of the world's most successful ever bike racing simulator MotoGP, this latest game for Playstation 2 offers all the excitement and realism of the original, plus even more officially-licensed tracks, all of this year's top GP riders, faster bikes – and bigger crashes!

Based on the famous FIM Road Racing World Championship, MotoGP 2 reflects the series perfectly, taking gamers all over the world to the toughest tracks against the most fearless riders. With an extra five real-life circuits, all-new changeable weather conditions and the chance to fine tune your bike for optimum performance, it is set to keep even the most hardened speed freaks on the edge of their seats.

Just like in real life, acceleration, braking, and racing lines all have to be perfect to put in a good lap time. Bike set-up and racecraft all need to be considered, and careless mistakes will see you plummetting from hero to zero - and it'll be more than your rider's confidence that gets bruised.

Thanks to Namco's team of dedicated developers combined with Playstation 2's unrivalled performance, MotoGP 2 racers can expect the most silky-smooth gameplay and real-life graphics ever seen on a bike racing game.

While the bikes remain totally responsive to the player – even at speeds of over 200mph, the replays that made the original MotoGP stand out have been enhanced, offering new camera angles and animation so smooth you'd be forgiven for thinking you were watching the real thing on TV.

Six modes, from a simple time trial, to a two-player arcade, challenge, or even a full World Championship assault with a top racing team mean MotoGP 2 is much more than a bike racing game - it is a two-wheeled, white-knuckle, adrenaline-fuelled experience guaranteed to have gamers with their hands over their eyes - you have been warned!
