UBI SOFT SERVES UP ALL STAR TENNIS '99 FOR NINTENDO 64, SONY PLAYSTATION AND GAME BOY COLOR

All Star Tennis '99 features all the power, speed and intensity of professional tennis

LOS ANGELES - (May 13, 1999) E3 Booth # 1346 -- Ubi Soft® Entertainment announced today the upcoming release of All Star Tennis™ '99 for the Playstation® game console and Nintendo® 64. All Star Tennis '99 (AST '99) will also be available for the Game Boy® Color.

Tear up the courts with eight top-ranked licensed players. The All Star Tennis '99 pro-player roster includes: Michael Chang (USA), Amanda Coetzer (South Africa), Richard Krajicek (Holland), Jana Novotna (Czech Republic), Jonas Bjorkman (Sweden), Conchita Martinez (Spain), Gustavo Kuerten (Brazil) and Mark Philippoussis (Australia). Players can also incorporate 4 additional players with an assortment of personalities, looks and playing styles for originality and greater character variation.

"All Star Tennis '99 will forge new ground in a barely touched sporting arena in the gaming industry," says Yves Guillemot, president, Ubi Soft Entertainment. "The fast paced action and amazing 3D graphics make AST '99 an impressive addition to our product lineup."

Progressive levels of singles and doubles competition on 8 original courts with realistic playing surfaces, (such as clay, grass and hard court), lets players dish out volleys, backhands, dives and serves without working up a sweat. With multiplayer options for up to 8 players, 6 traditional tennis shots and 2 special shots unique to each player, AST '99 offers outstanding simulation. With clever camera angles players can get the best vantage point of all the action without missing a beat!

Three original game modes deliver brutal blows as players attempt to dominate the court and snuff out the opposition. High-resolution 3D graphics and state of the art technology create realistic expressions of player emotion. Precise control over a variety of shots and character movements serves up the experience, power, speed and intensity of professional tennis.
