

Metro3D Executive Officers

Stephen C.H. Lin: Chairman & CEO

Dr. Lin is the founder of Metropolis Digital, Inc. and leads the overall business strategy of the Company.

Prior to MDI, Dr. Lin founded and sold International Materials Research, Inc. to General Signal; IMR Photo-Mask to Master Images, Inc; and Unicornix to Adaptec, Inc. During the past ten years, he has completed development contracts in electron beam polymer syntheses and production. Dr. Lin has also worked as a turn-around manager, consulted and rescued several Bay Area companies.

In addition to his high technology businesses, he managed several innovative real estate projects in Silicon Valley. In 1991, he completed a $200 million portfolio acquisition for Tuntex corporation, a Taiwanese conglomerate.

Dr. Lin received his B.S. degree in Mechanical Engineering from National Taiwan University, Taipei, Taiwan and his M.S. and Ph.D. degree in Materials Science from California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, California.

Yoshihito (George) Nakayama: President

Mr. Nakayama has over 25 years of video game business experience. For 12 years, he was the President of Capcom USA, a wholly owned subsidiary of Capcom Co. Ltd of Japan. Under his direction, Capcom USA's sales revenue grew from 0 to $250 millions in 8 years. During his term at Capcom USA, he established an R & D division; developed business relationships with Walt Disney Co. and other major accounts including Toys R Us, Wal-Mart, and Sears. He a Director of Universal Sales Co, Ltd (Japan), from 1977 to 1982 and president of Universal USA Inc (California) from 1982 to 1985.

Bilingual in English and Japanese, Mr. Nakayama holds a B.A degree in Economics and Foreign Trade from the University of Osaka.

Aldo Donnalioia: Senior Vice President and Chief Operating Officer

With more than 25 years experience in international licensing, merchandising, operations, sales and marketing, Mr. Donnalioia is responsible for MDI's entire North American operations. He will report directly to Mr. George Nakayama, President of MDI.

A former Capcom sales executive, Mr. Donnalioia was most recently Vice President of Power Link Corporation, an international licensing and merchandising company. Previously, Mr. Donnalioia held the position of Vice President of Sales and Marketing for the Arcade and Consumer division of American Technos, Inc.

Bilingual in English and Japanese, Mr. Donnalioia holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Social Science from San Jose State University.

Joelle Oiknine: Vice President of Sales and Business Development

Ms. Oiknine is responsible for sales and new business development for the Company. Prior to joining MDI, Ms. Oiknine worked on a consultant basis for Israel-based Wizcom Technologies Ltd. where she implemented a new pan-European distribution model. Before that, Ms. Oiknine worked as Regional Sales manager for Fujitsu Interactive, a new start-up, where she was responsible for establishing new distribution channels within North America, and Latin America. Ms. Oiknine also worked as National Sales Manager at JVC Musical Industries' games division, as well as in various sales capacities with Gametek, Inc. and Fujitsu/ICL of Australia, Inc.

Multilingual in English, French and Hebrew, Ms. Oiknine holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Statistics from Concordia University in Montreal, Canada.

Mark A. Jordan: Vice President of Game Development

Mr. Jordan leads the game development and production for MDI. Mr. Jordan has diverse marketing and computer graphics experience and has an extensive background in game development. He has developed, produced and published MDI's Star Command, Star Command Deluxe, AmoebArena, Armada and PuzzleMaster. Mr. Jordan holds a B.A. degree in History from University of California, Davis and studied contract law with emphasis on intellectual property at Santa Clara University.

Roger Zhong: Vice President of Administration

Mr. Zhong has extensive experience in finance and accounting and is responsible for the Company's daily operational activities including cash flow control, purchasing, web site development and title development planning and management. Mr. Zhong joined MDI in 1994 as the Accounting Manager and Business Analyst. Mr. Zhong holds a B.A. degree in Business Administration and an M.B.A. degree from Armstrong University.

I-Hung (Phoenix) Chen: Vice President & General Manger of Metropolis Pacific, Inc.

Mr. Chen is responsible for operations of MDI's offshore subsidiary in Taiwan. Mr. Chen joined MDI as the Director of International Marketing in 1997. Prior to joining MDI, he was a product manager at Acer Computer and an investment project manager at Kuang Hwa Investment Holdings Co. Mr. Chen also founded ACE (currently the Chinese Version of PC Gamer, which is one of the most popular PC game magazines in Greater China Region). Mr. Chen holds a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering from National Taiwan University and an M.E. in Engineering Management from Cornell University.