Welcome to the debut of the MacHome monthly CD-ROM. On this page await demos of the latest commercial software, fantastic shareware and freeware, must-have software from Apple and much more. And we've wrapped it all in a gorgeous interface especially created for MacHome by well-known Mac expert and artist Chris McVeigh.

As amazing as this first CD is, we're just getting started. We've got plenty of unbelievable plans in store for each new CD. Plans that'll definitely blow you away. Believe me, you won't want to miss a single issue.

Our goal at MacHome has always been to help you get the most from your Mac. With this CD, we're better able to do that than ever before. So what are you waiting for? Dive in and have fun!
