

This script demonstrates how to create a contact sheet of the selected records in the front Cumulus database.

A new QuarkXPress document is created, then each thumbnail and image name is transferred from the Cumulus database into a newly created picture and text box.

©1994 Canto Software