

Define Home Page and Photo Attributes

From this page you can

- Associate an optional Home Page with this user
- Associate an optional Photo image with this user
- Remove a previously defined Home Page from this user
- Remove a previously defined Photo image from this user

Important: Once home page and photo attributes are added to this user, you need to repeat the process of selecting a home page and/or photo if the content of the HTML file or the GIF file is changed.

Screen regions and buttons

Select New HTML File brings up the standard Windows Open File dialog box to let you browse and select an HTML file.

Remove HTML File will remove a previously defined Home Page from this user. This button will be disabled if no Home Page has been defined.

HTML File Name shows the last location of the HTML file that was selected for this user.

Select Photo brings up the standard Windows Open File dialog box to let you browse and select a GIF file. Only GIF format is supported.

Remove Photo will remove a previously defined Photo attribute from this user. This button will be disabled if no Photo attribute has been defined.

GIF File Name shows the last location of the GIF file that was selected for this user.

