INTRODUCTION

Type plays an essential role in almost every design layout. Today, it is more of an art than ever before. Type is made up of design elements worthy of attention. These elements possess both structure and order, as well as provocative, emotional nuances. Designers are realizing that typography should be seen as well as read – correctly used, fonts are both visually and literally expressive. Typography is language made visible. For every voice you need a parallel typeface which conveys a specific message. Used effectively, type gives designs both mood and pace.

Keeping this in mind, Bright Ideas® offers a wide variety of professional typefaces that fit every design need. Convey the perfect mood, from serious to lighthearted, subtle to entertaining, friendly to remote. You'll appreciate our clean body text, original headlines and unique display fonts. Creativity was never this easy – all you have to do is order!

SOMETHING FOR EVERY OCCASION!

Each Bright Ideas® font contains a full 255 characters – each one exquisitely kerned for professional use. Each font is fully scalable and provided in both TrueType and PostScript Type 1 formats for Macintosh and Windows platforms. We take the extra time – so you don't have to. Below are descriptions of different font categories that we supply along with an explanation of font families. Designing becomes a pleasure with this myriad of font styles at your fingertips.

SERIF

This style is highly designed and used primarily for text and headlines. Serif fonts are extremely legible while retaining individual qualities. This category is generally based on early Old Style, Transitional and Modern typeface design.

SANS SERIF

Probably the most useful of all typestyles, these have a universal quality. They are widely used for headline, text and logo design. Although these fonts do not contain serifs, they may possess subtly flaring stem shapes. The basic categories are Humanist, Neo Grotesque and Geometric.

DISPLAY

Sometimes referred to as the “wild” bunch, these highly-detailed fonts work best at larger point sizes. They are rarely used for anything smaller than headlines. They are highly stylized and can add a fun and unique flare to your layouts.

SCRIPT

These fonts imitate a variety of handwritten styles and express a wide range of emotion. They can portray anything from elegant sophistication to childish naiveté. Scripts are generally divided into the two categories: Joined and Unconnected.

Bright Ideas® also offers a range of font families. Each family is a set of six fonts. Each font shares some or all of these design traits: weight, width, italics, obliques and optical weight. The symbol to the left identifies Bright Ideas® font families.
