I wanted to thank you for a great selection of photos. These will make great wallpaper for Windows.

Many of the images we publish are available for your free, non-commercial use, and wallpaper certainly is a great way to use these images. In addition to the Photography & Images section, also check the Multimedia section as well as the Education section, which often contains NASA photos and recently contained images of Hurricane Andrew. This month, in addition to images from subscriber Randall Hyde, we feature three "vacation photos" montages from around the world. Enjoy!
