Release: Version 1.00

Date: Thursday, December 30, 1993

Description: Print Source For Windows NT is a native Windows NT console application. It prints standardized source code listings (or other text files) from the NT command prompt on Laserjet series printers. Designed for programmers, Print Source For Windows NT includes essential file information on each page of a source listing and can be three hole punched without loss of information. Options may be invoked via switches or environment variables - switches take precedence.

Requirements: Microsoft Windows NT and a Laserjet Series II compatible printer.

Warranty: None. That includes expressed, implied, and/or imagined.

License: Print Source For Windows NT is a copyrighted program and is being distributed as shareware. Any non-registered use beyond an initial 30 day trial period is strictly prohibited. Please support the shareware concept by registering your products (see the order form on the next page).

Usage: printsrc [options] <filespec> [filespec] [filespec] [...]
