

Moving a node

You can move nodes around to new locations within a window by dragging it with the mouse just as you move file icons in “Finder”.

A dotted square indicates where the node is being moved. As soon as you release the mouse button, the node is drawn at its new location.