Description : You and your clan stand across the sea from thr Alliance citadel of Lordaron. You can see the great spires of the castle on the horizon and that vision fills you with a great lust for battle. You have been instructed by Ogrim Doomhammer to ready your clan for an invasion. Four other clans will also take part in it with you. Reports from your spies have informed you that Lord Lothar is also present with his honor guard. You wish for his head as your trophy. Lord Admiral Proudmoore and the nation of Kul Tiras are guarding the sea and the entrance to Lorderon. They too must be destroyed. Prepare your forces for battle.

Hints : Don't capture your allies unless you really need them. I have had will orange come to my rescue before. If you do capture them, you reach maximum units very quickly.
