WillowMEDIA™ Enhancements and Upgrades

For the latest WillowMEDIA software upgrades, please visit us at <http://www.willowpond.com>.

WillowTALK™

Another product, WillowTALK, lets your PC read documents to you in a variety of computer voices. It is also described on <http://www.willowpond.com>.

With WillowTALK, you can...

- Have your PC read your documents to you while you do other things or just rest your eyes.
- Proof-read a document you have just typed in, including a column of numbers in a spreadsheet, for example. While WillowTALK reads out loud, you can check it against your original paper copy.
- Write a “play” or “script”, where different character voices read different speaking parts.
- Have your PC announce the time and alarm messages at times you set.
- Read Internet browser web pages without looking at the screen.
- Have your PC read an application Help file to you while you use the application full screen.
- Hear how a speech you are preparing will sound, and how long it will take to deliver.

Technical Support

Willow Pond does not make or sell sound cards, modems, CD drives, PCs, or any hardware at all. We only license software to companies that manufacture these products. We can not support your hardware or its drivers; please see your hardware manufacturer for that support.
