

TC Demolition Derby is a 3D automobile demolition game where the objective is to destroy all other cars while preventing too much damage on your own car. With each new level, more cars will be introduced into the contest. After every contest you will be able to fortify each side of your car. A good strategy is to keep the fuel level at 100 percent and fortify the front and back side the most. The right and left side is not used too much when you propel your vehicle into a group of cars. Check your status frequently to determine which side is mostly damaged. Then attack with your most fortified side. The most damage occurs when there is a longer running start.

Movement
