

Install Help

Notes

If your SOURCE and TARGET directories are the same, you MUST select 'No' when asked if you want to replace existing files.

This install program can only create a directory one level deeper than what already exists. This means if you change the target directory to say "c:\newprog\prog", the directory "newprog" must already exist. Otherwise install will report it can't create the target directory.

Options

Source Directory

The location FROM which all files will be copied.

Target Directory

The default TARGET directory (ie.- the directory that you want to install the program to). You can edit the TARGET directory if you wish to change the default.

Create Program Manager Group

Click on the check box titled "Create Program Manager Group", if you want the installation program to create a Program Manager Group/Item for you. If you want to do this manually, then you should unselect this check box.

Start Installation

When satisfied with the source and target directories, click on the button labelled "Start Install" to start the installation.

Cancel Installation

To cancel the installation, click on the button labelled "Abort".
