

Welcome to Glamour Girls III

Thanks for choosing Glamour Girls III. We hope you enjoy the photos and videos we've put together. Glamour Girls III is packed with new features and options, so sit back and get set to enjoy a great show!

Things in the program are pretty self-explanatory, but help screens are available from each of the models' menus. Looking over the help screens on your first trip through might make for more enjoyable viewing.

One new feature is the ability to view both the photos and the videos outside of the program. The photos are provided in 24-bit JPEG format, and can be found in the folder titled, "Images." They will look best when viewed on a monitor displaying millions of colors (24-bit). Within Glamour Girls III, the photos are in 8-bit format to ensure the fastest performance possible. The program has been designed to look good on any color monitor, while the external images will look their best on monitors set to Millions of Colors.

The videos are 24-bit and will look much better on a 24-bit system. The videos are located in the root directory of the CD, and can be viewed external to the program using a freeware or shareware Quicktime™ player. On Windows machines, a viewer even comes as a standard part of the Quicktime for Windows installation. The movies themselves do not have audio, so when viewed externally they will be silent. Use your imagination. The girls are thinking of you. You can find the movies pretty easily - they all have “.mov” following their names.

We hope these new features let more people enjoy Glamour Girls III on more types of computers than ever before.

To contact Acme Multimedia about our other discs and for specials available only to owners of Glamour Girls III, e-mail us at

GGirls123@aol.com

For technical support, you can also reach us at that e-mail address, but please refer to the enclosed technical support file (TechSupp) first. It will answer the most commonly asked questions.

Thanks again, and enjoy!