

11. What's your policy on the user database ?

We will not use the data as entered by our users for any purpose except for contacting these users for system-related matters. We are legally restricted from offering or selling the personal data to third parties and have absolutely no intention of doing so. We protect this data from anyone other than a select few of our XS4ALL staff-members.

Therefore, we ask you to enter your correct name, current home address, day and evening phone numbers. If you made any mistakes at the `new' account set-up procedure, please e-mail any and all corrections to account@xs4all.nl when you are on the system. Only when we have all your information we can offer full service. If your personal information changes over time, please send these corrections to account@xs4all.nl.
