Auto-Brightness

Examines an image, brightening any dark areas and darkening any light areas. This is especially helpful for images opened from a from Photo CD which tend to be naturally darker. This option does not have much of an effect for images that are either very dark or very light, such as a sunny day or a night scene.