Introduction:

Holidays is a screen saver collection for use with Windows 95 which includes:

- |                                    |   |
|------------------------------------|---|
| Hearts Screen Saver         | A romantic screen interlude for Valentine's Day (or any day).   |
| Fireworks Screen Saver      | It's the Fourth of July everyday with this explosive screen saver (but you better keep a fire extinguisher handy just in case).                   |
| Christmas Tree Screen Saver | This year don't forget to decorate the monitor. Christmas Tree is a fun animated christmas tree to liven up your screen (when your not using it). |

Getting Started:

Installing Holidays is easy:

1. Run the setup program to install the files.
2. From the Start Menu, select Control Panel, then the Display icon.
- or -
Right click the wallpaper and select display from the pop-up menu.
3. Select the Screen Saver tab and choose a Holidays Screen Saver from the list of of available screen savers. The Settings button will let you change Holidays Screen Saver options and the Wait box will let you set the time Windows will wait before activating your Holidays Screen Saver.

That's it!

Uninstalling:

If you decide to uninstall Holidays, though I don't know why since you'll be needing it every year, simply run the setup program and select uninstall. Note that you will need to choose a different screen saver as discribed above in steps 2 & 3.

We might as well get this out of the way.
